Nor judgment under silver tresses lies.
Others on silver-lakes and rivers bath'd
Their downy breast. Shakespeare.
3. Having a pale lustre.
- So sweet a kiss the golden sun gives not
To those fresh morning drops upon the rose,
As thy eye beams, when their frosty rays have smote
The night of dew that on my cheeks down flows;
Nor shines the silver moon one half so bright,
Through the transparent tears of mine give light. Shakespeare.
4. Soft of voice.
- This phrase is Italian, voce argentina.
From all their groves, which with the heavenly noises,
Of their sweet instruments were wont to found,
And th' hollow hills, from which their silver voices
Were wont redoubled echoes to rebound,
Did now rebound with nought but rueful cries,
And yelling shrieks thrown up into the skies. Spenser.
